

Rössing Uranium is one of the largest uranium extraction mines near Arandis Namibia. The project includes the structural investigation of an existing dilapidated concrete platform at the pulp distributor in the leach line, providing a durable solution, compiling the complete associated workpack for the project and the procurement of the platform materials.

A new FRP (Fiberglass Reinforced Plastic) platform was installed complete with the associated subframe and drainage system.

RÖSSING PULP DISTRIBUTOR

Concrete Floor Assessment

PROJECT STATS

Value	NAD 0.11 million USD 0.01 million (ROE 16.24)
Location	Erongo Region, Namibia
Client	Rössing Uranium Ltd.
Start	04/2019
Finish	09/2019

SERVICES

- Project management
- Preliminary & detail designs
- Tender documents, process & evaluation
- Contract administration
- Construction supervision

Project Management

Structural